DETAILED ACTION

Lack of Unity

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-5, 7-8, drawn to a compound of the formula as recited in claim 1.

This group may be subjected to further restriction based on the R_1 , R_2 , R_3 , R_4 , R_5 , R_6 , X_1 and X_2 groups on the ring/chain of the compound. A single disclosed species, i.e. a single disclosed compound, is hereby requested for search purpose.

Group II, claim 6, drawn to a process for preparing compounds of formula 1a and 1b.

This group may be subjected to further restriction based on the R_1 , R_2 , R_3 , R_4 , R_5 , R_6 , X_1 and X_2 groups on the ring/chain of the compound. A single disclosed species, i.e. a single disclosed compound, is hereby requested for search purpose.

Group III, claim(s) 9-11 and 13, drawn to a metal complex. A single disclosed species, i.e. a single disclosed compound, is hereby requested for search purpose.

Group IV, claim 12, drawn to a process to prepare chiral organic compound.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: (i) the process for preparing compound of claim 1 can be made using materially different process, (ii) the claims of group II, III and IV belongs to divergent structural compounds. Each of the above groups is belongs to a divergent subject matter, and there is no common technical feature to combine the groups, and hence the restriction is proper.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reason given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction were not required; because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02) restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

3. Upon election of invention of groups I-IV, applicant needs to elect a single disclosed species, i.e., single disclosed compound, for examination purposes for either of the group elected. Claims will be examined to the extent they read on the elected species and closely related compounds. Applicant should identify all the claims that are readable on elected species.

4. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

See claims and the examples disclosed in the specification.

Applicant must identify exact and full name of a species for the account of examination purpose and identify the claims readable upon.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

5. The following claims are generic:

Claims 1-13 are generic.

6. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the special technical feature which is referred to Annex B of Appendix A1 of MPEP (Administrative Instructions under the PCT, "Unity of Invention"). Unity exists only when there is a technical relationship among the claimed inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding claimed technical features. The express "special technical features" is defined as meaning those technical features that define a contribution which each of the inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art ("Rule 13.2).

7. A telephone call was not made because of the complex nature of claims.
8. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
